Washington, Oct. 27.—In the court room of the interstate commerce commission, the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission went into session today. The operators and their representatives The operators and their representatives were: Geo. F. Baer, Alfred Walter, W. H. Truesdale, David Wilcox and John B. Kerr. President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, accompanied by district President Fahy, took seats at the same table as the operators.

Judge Gray explained the purpose of the meeting, to hear and exchange of opinion as to what the next step should "I am ready to hear from those, he said "who may be deemed plaintiffs or complainants in the case." Mr. Mitchell arose and said. :

"We will be ready to begin to present our testimony next Monday." "I have heard the formal demand made by the miners from the operators which resulted in the strike" he continued.

Judge Gray interrupted, "What we want is a logical statement of the claims on one side with answer of the other, thus eliminating irrelevant matter and getting at the point at issue. We don't want any argument." Mr. Mitchell then read a statement of a few hundred words embodying the demanns of the Shamokin convention of last March.
